3. COURSE DESCRIPTION

Paris, the most visited city in the world, is both an historical city and a modern global capital that fashionably wears the old and the new on its sleeve. It is also home to Parisians, whose clichéd image has been shaped in cultural imaginaries from around the globe, but whose identities and cultures are increasingly plural. The city and language course poses this two-fold question: just who is this city for, and how does one unlock its levels? More than a picturesque concentration of streets and buildings, Paris's urban landscape provides a tableau upon which people have inscribed meaning, message, and significance to state, nation, and culture. To decipher these messages and gain an understanding of Paris's history and the French culture that has shaped it, we will look at the histories of the conception, construction, and public perception of Parisian sites and place their stories within the larger context of the development of French identity.

The city and language course introduces students to French history, culture, and language through team-taught instruction. In the "Pursuing Paris" sessions, students will learn about French history and culture by visiting sites important to the evolution of the capital city—these sessions will be taught in English. In the "Unlocking French" sessions, students will learn targeted language skills through situational communication, so they will have the opportunity to use everything they learn as they go about their daily activities.

4. COURSE MATERIALS

Handouts

5. COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Students will become active viewers of the city and will be presented techniques to decipher cultural, social, and political messages embedded in the landscapes of neighborhoods, and in the iconography of monuments and the façades of buildings.
- Through active participation in the French sessions, students will learn to navigate the city through targeted language relating to things like transport, shopping for daily needs, eating out, etc.. They will also gain an appreciation for French culture and develop skills to compare its differences to their home culture(s).

6. PREREQUISITES

There are no prerequisites for this course, but students with previous experience of the French language will be placed in a section of the French language segment of the course appropriate to their reported experience.
